Two Roll-Over Accidents Reported on SB I-75

Two roll-over accidents were reported on south-bound I-75 last Friday and Saturday.

On Friday, three women were injured about a half mile south of M-93 when their car rolled over. Sheriff deputies say the apparent cause of the accident was the driver falling asleep. The three women, ages 53, 55, and 79, were taken to Mercy Hospital. The two younger women were sisters from Illinois. The older woman was their mother from Wisconsin.

On Saturday, Dan Groves, from Walled Lake, was treated and released from Mercy Hospital after his car rolled over near the 249 mile marker.

COMMUNITY ATTRACTIONS — County residents celebrated the opening of two special places in Grayling last Friday with ceremonial ribbon cuttings. At top, museum director Robert Ruddy cuts the ribbon in front of the railroad depot. ## Military, DNR Sign Land Management Plan To Help Rare Songbird

The rare songbird, the Kirtland's warbler, will benefit from a land management agreement signed last Thursday by the acting DNR director Gordon Guyer and Department of Military Affairs Director General Vernon Andrews at the Grayling Holiday Inn.

"Basically, the agreement lets the DNR manage military land near Bald Hill Road for the birds while warbler use of land within the Range 30 tank range is discouraged," said Ray Perez, DNR biologist who prepared the land use plan with Greg Huntington, Dept. of Military Affairs Environmental Coordinator.

"This should be good for both sides," said Perez. "Eventually the military will have unrestricted use of their tank range and the birds will have good habitat on military land outside of the tank range."

There are two long-term objectives of the plan:

- 1) The military will discourage growth of new jack pine stands inside the tank range west of Bald Hill Road.
- 2) On some military lands east of Bald Hill Road, Kirtland's warbler management areas will be established.

Existing warbler nesting areas in the tank range will continue to be protected until they grow out of prime warbler habitat. Warblers prefer young jack pine stands.

An area of jack pines just growing into prime warbler habitat will be allowed to develop near Kyle Lake. If warblers begin to use the area, the military will be advised, but the area will not be posted and closed unless the total warbler population is below 200.

An area of the 1975 Bald Hill burn will have a strip surrounding it cleared to provide a highly visible boundary for tanks and other military vehicles.

The plan also allows for cowbird trapping in active nesting areas on military land.

Since the early 1970's, the DNR has had to close some military lands to protect the warblers. Since warbler nesting occurs during the peak season for military exercises, the restrictions on the tank ranges and other lands have hampered military operations.

The birds have continued to nest in the tank ranges because fires caused from military shooting keep producing young jack pine stands.

Military maneuvers and nesting areas have not been compatible. Tanks and other military vehicles have destroyed nesting habitat or disturbed birds during the nesting season. Low-level flights by jets and helicopters landing in the nesting areas have also disturbed birds. A few times fires have destroyed habitat during nesting season.

The new land management plan is designed to prevent future conflicts between the military and birds.

WARBLER AGREEMENT — Acting DNR director Gordon Guyer, left, and General Andrews, director of the Dept. of Military Affairs, sign an agreement that will help the Kirtland's warbler and the military.

Legislature OKs New $785,000 DNR Field Office Here

The Michigan legislature has approved $785,000 to build a new DNR field office complex in the Grayling area.

John MacGregor, DNR regional director at Roscommon, said two sites for the new complex are being considered. One site is on state land across from the Grayling High School and between Old 27 and M-93. The other site being considered is at a corner of the intersection on M-93 and I-75.

MacGregor said construction on the new field office complex probably will not start until late fall or next spring. The complex will probably take one year to build.

MacGregor said a new complex is needed because the current field office located at the corner of Michigan Avenue and North Down River Road is old and more space is needed. He said some of the buildings used at the current DNR field office were built in the 1880's.

"It was built originally as a fish hatchery and now it's used as an entire field office," MacGregor said.

MacGregor said the DNR would like to move the field office to a new site out of town to get away from the residential area the current field office is located near.

"Even though we do have a bit of a buffer at the current site, I just don't think our work with heavy machines, boats, fire trucks, and whatever is conducive to being a good neighbor in a residential area next to a hospital."

MacGregor credited Representative Ralph Ostling for his work in pushing the approval for the new complex through the legislature. MacGregor said the push for the new complex began a few years ago when Ostling, DNR officials, and local government officials met with hospital representatives about further expansion onto the DNR site. MacGregor said many government units and community organizations such as the hospital have expressed interest in using parts of the current field office land.

The new complex will have enough office space for DNR field personnel plus be able to expand to accommodate any new DNR positions in the area. MacGregor said the new site will have an adequate buffer zone surrounding it, and the fence at the current site may be moved out there.

400 Invited to G-P Groundbreaking Ceremony

More than 400 persons have been invited to ground-breaking ceremonies from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 31, for the new Georgia-Pacific resin plant in Beaver Creek Township.

Crawford County and Beaver Creek Township community leaders will join officials from the Atlanta-based Georgia-Pacific Corporation for ceremonies for the company's 15th resin facility.

"We are pleased to be a corporate neighbor in the Beaver Creek and Grayling communities and are most appreciative of the support we have received from our neighbors here," James R. Taylor, vice-president - Chemical Division, said. "Georgia-Pacific has reached this point in our development in a timely manner because of the dedication and cooperation of this community's well-informed leadership."

Construction of the $8 million Beaver Creek Resin Plant is proceeding on schedule, with start-up of the facility expected this fall.

LAND FOR COUNTY FAIR — Acting DNR director Gordon Guyer gives Crawford County Commissioner Jeannette Kitchen and Crawford County Clerk Beth Wieland the deed for 59.38 acres.

State Gives County Land for Fairgrounds

Crawford County received 59.38 acres from the state of Michigan last Thursday when acting DNR director Gordon Guyer handed county commissioner Jeannette Kitchen the deed.

The state-owned tax reverted land was given to the county for use as a county fairground. The deed has a reverter clause in it should the land cease to be used for public purposes.

The 59.38 acres are located near the intersection of M-93 and Old 27 to the east and south.

Harold Mertes, with the Crawford County Fair Board, said the Fair Board is planning on holding the 1986 Crawford County Fair at the new site.

"We hope to have one exhibit building, one small animal building, and restrooms built by then," said Mertes.

The 1986 County Fair will be held August 6th-9th.

"We're going to be very busy the next two months," said Mertes.

Mertes said the 59.38 acres will be plenty of land for county fairgrounds.

Before the land can be used for a fairground, the county has to work out some sort of lease agreement with the Fair Board. Grayling Township also has to hold a public hearing because of the area zoning.

Still Need 2 Big Brothers

Response from a May 15th Avalanche article on the Big Brother-Big Sister program here has helped provide match-ups for most area children who would like to have a Big Brother or Big Sister. Two boys, however, who have been waiting almost two years for someone to volunteer to be their Big Brother, are still waiting.

Wouldn't you help them? Please call Mary Jo Halloran at Youth Services, 346-2241, ext. 262.

From Our Corner...

Just in case you are interested...

The ol' fella took a sabbatical last Saturday and Sunday and returned to the old home town that was home to us for the first 20 years of our life...

Needless to say, Gaylord has changed quite abit since 1942...just like our classmates who attended the reunion...I never knew that I graduated with so many ol' folks...

To show how much Gaylord has changed, like Grayling, it took the classes of 1938, '39, '40, '41, and '42 in order to have a little over a hundred to attend the dinner-dance Saturday evening...

The last time we attended the reunion was six years ago, and it was amazing how much everyone had changed except me...

We missed the one three years ago because of our bride having surgery at Rochester, Minnesota...so, maybe if I had been to that one we would have been able to recognize more of the group...

It is a good thing they have a little get-together in the afternoon at the Holiday Inn...that way they can get the guessing game out of the way...that gives time to walk up to someone and say guess who I am, and I'll guess who you are...doing that takes away the confusion at the dinner in the evening...

It really was nice to see so many of our old cronies that we figured we would never forget...but, then, time takes its toll...we know our readers do not know the ones we speak of, but, it was good to see Jim Decker, he was the clown prince of our class of '39...if we had time, we could write a book of some of the things that were brought up...

To name a few we chatted with of whom some of our elder readers may recognize, Norm Glasser, was MC for the evening, Chub Mathews, Ted Werts, Earl Fesler, Jack Lovelace, Bill Moore, to name a few...

The biggest portion of the evening was taken up on when to hold the next reunion...all the classes are in striking distance of their 50th, but, after much discussion, the group decided to hold it in three years like it has been in the past, which makes it the 50th for the ol' fella if we are still hanging around...

To complete our sabbatical, on Sunday, Thelma and I were guests of my much older sister, Blenda, and our sister-in-law, Helen for brunch at Sylvan Resort which again brought back many memories, Sylvan is located near Spaar, when as a kid someone would ask where we lived, we told them, about three miles west of Spaar...

Also, as we passed Hidden Valley, that also had memories...down at the bottom of the big hill was Merkle Springs, we walked down there many times, and in the same vicinity was round top, a place we skied down on barrel staves...now, both spots are huge resorts...

It is nice sometimes to take a break and look into your past...you can be surprised of the many fond memories that return...

This turkey can not be complete without the mention of the Memorial Day (designated) parade and the Tip of the Derby to the Grayling Viking band...

Finally, after many years, say, back when LeRoy Christian was band director, Grayling can well be proud of their Viking band...they made not only the parade but, also at the ceremonies at the Eternal Flame...thanks for participating in the memory of those who didn't return home...

An idle thought...if you have time this Friday, pause a minute and think of the servicemen that didn't return, instead of having a Monday off...

Wish I had said it, instead of Sydney Harris...The time we feel our home is really our castle is when we get an estimate for redecorating...

Time to bid T.J., Stefany and Amber good-night...and to all have a nice weekend...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Are Fundamentalists Bad?

Are fundamentalists wrong? Are all fundamentalists radical, wild eyed extremists? What is a fundamentalist? What is fundamentalism? Webster says fundamentalism is a Protestant religious movement emphasizing the literal infallibility of the Scriptures. This term and movement was born during the early years of this century to identify those Christians who believed the Bible, from the liberals who rejected the authority of Holy Scriptures. Liberalism had taken over most of the major denominations, schools, and social agencies of Christianity. Fundamentalism was a return to basics in Christianity.

Even the term fundamentalist is under attack today. Humanists, Socialists, and Communists have rejected all absolutes except one - there are no absolutes. Right and wrong must remain relative. To them change is more absolute than any law. This is why they must attack all fundamentalists with a passion. Even God's Holy Scriptures cannot be permitted to be absolutely right at all times.

"The Christian Century", a liberal ecumenical weekly, has named "the Islamic fundamentalist" as its "Newsmaker of the Year" for 1985. The editor stated that "fundamentalist is intolerant by definition" and has a "commitment that won't budge under pressure." Mr. Wall tied all religions together as having their fundamentalists. The liberals are playing a "guilt by association" game to undermine the image of Bible believing Christians. No Moslem would call himself a "fundamentalist." This is a kind of neo-McCarthyism in which the religious liberal press discredits those who still believe the Bible. By calling radical terrorists and blind religious zealots by the same name traditionally used for humble, dedicated, praying, Bible-reading Christians who love God, home and country, is to slander and demean without a cause.

Are fundamentalists self-righteous and judgmental of all others? True Bible-believing fundamentalists realize that they are merely sinners saved by God's grace. (Eph 2:8,9). Our God and savior Jesus Christ taught us to believe Holy Scriptures. "Heaven and earth shall pass away but my words shall not pass away." (Matt 24:35). "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law..." (Matt 5:18). "Jesus answered and said unto him: If a man love me, he will keep my words..." (John 14:23). To call Jesus Lord and deny Bible infallibility is to call Christ both lord and liar.

New Madrid Earthquakes

In 1811 and 1812 the New Madrid Missouri quakes caused topographical changes over 50,000 square miles and shook more than a million square miles. In terms of the 'felt area'—where the earthquake is perceptible to humans—the New Madrid quakes were the largest in American history. They were felt all the way to Canada and the U.S. East Coast.

'The Quote Machine' Spills Over

by Richard Millman

PRESENTED HEREWITH, for no particular reason and in no particular order, a covey of cogent quotations, gathered hither and yon, which appealed to your columnist for one reason or another, and which he thought his regular readers might fancy, too.

Ingham County Prosecutor Peter Houk sent a stern letter to several state senators who were observed in the state Capitol, with both playing cards and money visible on the table: "Please be advised that games of chance are illegal...and if you are engaging in such games in the future in this county, I may find it necessary to take appropriate action." Added Prosecutor Houk: "What is permissible in one's basement on Saturday night is not permissible in the state Capitol."

State Sen. Kirby Holmes, one of those who received Prosecutor Houk's warning: "It would appear (Mr. Houk) destroyed a good thing. It was like taking candy from a baby. Not too many of these guys know too much about poker...That's what I liked about it."

RADIO COMMENTATOR Paul Harvey, discussing tax reform: "Seven thousand two hundred registered lobbyists are swarming Capitol Hill, buttonholing members of finance committees, buying TV ads urging exemptions for themselves. 'But don't let the president tax cash values of life insurance...But don't let the president tax employer-paid benefits...But don't let the president abolish deductions for state and local taxes...But don't diminish depreciation for timber and minerals...' Everybody applauds the concept of tax reform, as long as it spares his own 'but'."

Columnist Ben Wattenberg, writing about the problems of funding Social Security: "Spending money on problems usually helps — but spending a lot of money also creates a new problem. For all its economic and human value, in recent years Social Security has also been one of the causes of the huge federal deficit. But, when you think about it, that, too, is a problem solvable by throwing money at it — a certain kind of money called 'higher taxes'."

FORMER SENATE Majority Leader (and presidential hopeful) Howard Baker, urging control on election spending by political action committees: "Only people vote for president, and I think really that only people should contribute."

Golfer Gordon Jones, who recently joined the PGA Senior Tour: "It's great just to be playing on the PGA Senior Tour. At age 55, it's nice to be looking down at the green grass rather than looking up at the roots."

Another golfer, Jerry Barber, who stands only 5'5" and weighs 142 pounds: "Two things kept me from being a great player. The first was obviously my size. The second was talent."

Columnist Sydney Harris' thoughts at large: "What most advertisers can't seem to grasp is that people are more likely to believe something that is whispered to them than something that is shouted at them."

Humorist Rose Sands (quoted in the Wall Street Journal): "To err is human." To really foul things up requires a computer."

Genius Albert Einstein: "Peace cannot be kept by force. It can only be achieved by understanding."

ANONYMOUS:

— "Many things are opened by mistake, but none more often than the mouth."

— "Adolescence is a period of rapid changes. Between the ages of 12 and 17, for example, a parent ages as much as 20 years."

— "It is easier to save face if you keep the lower half shut."

SCIENTIST Dr. Wernher Von Braun, in an address a few years ago: "Science and religion are not incompatible. While science tries to learn more about the Creator. One cannot be exposed to the order and beauty of the universe without conceding there must be a divine intent behind it. Must we light a candle to see the sun? The more we understand the universe and the intricacies of its operation, the more sense we have to marvel at its Creator."

And that's as good a place as any to end this week's offering.

SILLY SAM'S RIBBON-CUTTING — Linda Pelton, new owners of Silly Sam's with her husband George Pelton, cuts a ribbon at ceremonies held for the malt shop at Michigan Avenue. Silly Sam's offers House of Flavors ice cream, milkshakes, coolers, malts, and is now serving hot and cold sandwiches. In addition to food, Silly Sam's has 15 video games and a pool table. Summer hours will be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Hot Weather Can Be A Problem For The Elderly

Call Edwards

Extension Home Economist

Warm, sunny days are fast approaching. That means you may be spending more time under the sun — gardening, sightseeing, working and playing. But be careful! If you over exert yourself or stay out in the sun too long, you could become ill. High temperatures and high humidity can cause body temperature to rise interfering with the body's proper functioning.

Heat stroke, heat exhaustion and heat cramps are all serious heat-related illnesses. Elderly people may be especially prone to heat-related illnesses because the body's mechanisms for coping with heat function less effectively as we age.

Heat stroke, the most dangerous heat-induced illness, requires emergency medical attention. The victim often cannot sweat because the sweat glands fail to function. Symptoms include: body temperatures of 104 degrees F or higher; dizziness, faintness or loss of consciousness; hot, dry, red skin; staggering; possible diarrhea; rapid pulse; confusion and headache. For first aid: call for emergency medical help, cool the body by removing as many clothes as possible and sponge the body with cool water. Give liquids only if the victim is conscious.

Heat exhaustion is the most common form of heat-related illness. Symptoms include: clammy or sweaty skin, slightly elevated body temperature, dizziness, profuse perspiration, rapid pulse, nausea and thirst. For relief, have the victim rest in a cool place and drink cool fluids to restore lost body water. Then cover the victim with wet towels to lower the body temperature.

Heat cramps are the least serious of the heat-related illnesses, but if they go untreated, they can become serious. Heat cramps generally occur after much exercise or physical labor in the heat. Symptoms include: sweaty skin, possible weakness and nausea, occasional tingling in the arms or legs, and muscle cramps that often begin in the abdomen and legs. For first aid treatment, have the victim sit or lie in a cool, shady place and drink cool fluids. Check with a physician to see if the victim should take salt to replace salt lost through perspiration.

You can prevent heat illnesses with some simple precautions. When temperatures reach the 90s, limit your physical activities during the hottest part of the day. If you must be out in the sun, wear a hat or use an umbrella to protect your head; wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothes to keep you cool and comfortable. Take frequent cool showers or baths or turn on the air conditioner or the electric fan to combat the heat. During the day, open windows on shaded sides of your home and close windows and drapes on the sunnier sides. Or close windows and drapes during the day and open them at night after the air has cooled.

Remember to drink plenty of liquids, such as water or fruit or vegetable juices, when it's hot. Stay away from alcoholic drinks, coffee, tea and other caffeine drinks because they can cause fluid loss. Also avoid fluids with a lot of salt — they can complicate existing medical problems such as high blood pressure. Unless you're on a fluid or salt-restricted diet, you should drink at least a gallon of liquid a day when the temperature is above 95 degrees F and you're not in air-conditioned surroundings. If you're large or overweight or exercise a lot, you may need to drink even more. Eat a well-balanced diet but avoid eating hot, heavy meals. Eat more fruits, vegetables and cool salads. If you don't have an air conditioner, fan or other cooling device, when it's really hot you may be in danger of developing a heat-related illness. If finances are a problem, contact your local city hall, city or state Department of Public Health or the American Red Cross for assistance.

Welborn Proposes Voter Approval for Prison Siting

Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate Corrections Committee, has introduced legislation which will give local citizens the ultimate veto power over any proposed prisons in their community.

Under the proposal, once citizens have filed a successful petition for a referendum, the Department of Corrections would be prohibited from establishing a correctional facility at a site until approved by a majority of the voters in a city, township or village.

"Voters deserve the right to vote on what's going to happen in their community," Welborn said.

"They already can on such issues as zoning and ordinances, but when it comes to a prison being located next door, voters have no say. It's unfair to communities who don't want a prison, and it's equally unfair to a prison and prison officials to be in a community where they're not wanted," he said.

The bill would not affect prison sites on which hearings have already been held and that are scheduled for construction by the Department of Corrections.

Welborn denied his bill would make it impossible to construct new prisons and insisted that under the measure, the department will be forced to become more accountable to the public.

"There are already a number of communities that want prisons and the employment they bring with them," Welborn said.

"My bill won't mean an end to new prison construction, but it does mean the department will be accountable for security and for the operation of the prison system, and today, in my opinion they're not. They'll have to face the voters and explain to them that they'll provide that security before they just dump a prison into a community," he added.

BLANCHARD ANNOUNCES HOUSING COST REDUCTION COMPETITION

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) has launched a national competition for new ideas and products that will cut the cost of residential housing construction, Governor Blanchard announced.

The 1988 Housing Cost Reduction Competition will offer up to $27,000 in prize money, including special awards for the best Michigan-based entry and for the best entry from a student enrolled in a Michigan college, university or technical school.

"In Michigan, we always look for better and less expensive ways to meet our state's needs," Blanchard said.

"MSHDA has consistently led in developing innovative housing programs. This exciting new competition will give the Authority another tool to address the housing needs of low and moderate income families and the elderly in an economical and efficient way."

MSHDA Executive Director Terrence Duvernay said the Authority is seeking construction methods, design alternatives and products that result in the greatest cost savings for production of single family or multi-family housing.

Entries will be accepted through September 2.

Eats Huge Volumes

Unable to digest bamboo's nutrients efficiently, a panda eats large volumes—22 to 40 pounds of leaves and stems a day. When on a diet of bamboo shoots, which are 90 percent water, a panda may consume some 650 shoots weighing 85 pounds daily.

The panda's reputation as an iron eater probably comes from incidents of entering villages and chewing up cooking pots. Pandas get their ability to chew metal—as well as tough bamboo—from massive jaws and broad molars.

Woods Water Fish

By Barnie Engel

Another spring and summer season is upon us. Mother Nature provides the scene and color for the beauties of nature to bloom and make it possible for us to enjoy them in their fullest. We are about to open the trout ponds at the former Grayling Fish Hatchery for the fourth season.

The past three summers have been very successful as a tourist attraction for the traveling public and the local people.

Nearly forty thousand people have entered the pond area each of the past three years to look at the fish and feed them pellets of prepared fish food which may be purchased very reasonably. This is one of the ways that makes it possible for people to see and enjoy this station once more.

Having spent a lifetime in the hatchery business of fish propagation and distribution it is wonderful to see people and especially the children as they rush from one pond of fish to another shouting for someone to come and see the big ones, or watch the smaller fish eat.

This is strictly a non-profit venture sponsored by the Crawford County Commissioners.

The traveling public who have visited the trout ponds these last three years have come from many of our southern states as well as from the east.

Many have told us they visited the hatchery years ago when they were children and now they are bringing their grandchildren.

We extend an invitation to everyone to come and visit the trout ponds this summer.

Quick Therapy

You feel secure partly because you are familiar with your environment and feel comfortable in it. Imagine, however, if you were transported to a foreign country where you know neither the people nor the language, and not even what country you were in. Communication would be difficult, if not impossible. How comfortable would you feel then? But if someone came up to you and put his arms around you and looked as if he could empathize with your predicament, wouldn't that be of some comfort to you?

The mentally impaired resident in a nursing home experiences a similar difficulty. He is in a place that is unfamiliar to him, he cannot communicate with the people around him and he feels frustrated and uncomfortable. But how comforting it must be for him when someone comes up to him and puts his arms around him, smiles at him, or in other ways shows him there are friendly people there. The next time you meet a mentally impaired resident, take the time to give him a hug or a smile or a pat. He may not be able to respond in words, but you'll know your gesture was a therapeutic one.

Resource Review

by Bruce Patrick
 Conservation Officer

The period from June 2nd thru June 8th has been designated as National Fishing Week with the purpose of informing the nonfishing members of the public of the joys of fishing. Special fish clinics, workshops, fishing tournaments and club outings are a few of the activities anticipated to make the event successful.

As part of the festivities, June 7th and 8th (Saturday and Sunday) have been designated as Free Fishing Days throughout the state. All persons will be able to fish that weekend without a fishing license. It is hoped by the sponsor of the measure, State Senator Connie Binsfeld, that the end result will be more people becoming involved in sport fishing. The Free Fishing Days is anticipated to be an annual event.

Even though no fishing license will be required on those days, all other regulations should be adhered to. Fish law digests, bait, equipment and advice will be available at sport shops and other license agents statewide. Stop in, get what you need and enjoy yourself during Michigan's first Free Fishing Day observance.

La Leche League To Meet June 5

If your family is awaiting the arrival of a new member, the Grayling-Roscommon La Leche League meeting: "Baby Arrives; The Family and the Breastfed Baby," may interest you. Informal discussion will center on how to manage those first hectic weeks, with emphasis on the entire family as well as timely tips for the nursing mother and baby.

The importance of breastfeeding is stressed, not as an end in itself, but as an integral part of the whole human relationship.

The meeting will be held on Thursday, June 5 at 7:30 p.m. at 6538 Old Lake Road, Grayling.

Expectant mothers are encouraged to attend the series of meetings before the baby arrives. Any woman interested in breastfeeding is welcome; babies are always welcome. For further information, or for breastfeeding help, call Carolyn Crist at 275-8431.

Applications Available For Youth Corps Jobs

With just two weeks left before the first Michigan Youth Corps (MYC) jobs begin, eligible young people should apply for a job soon, Michigan Department of Labor Director Elizabeth P. Howe said today.

"If you need a job and want to make the most of your summer, you should immediately apply for work with the Youth Corps," Howe said. "It is a great opportunity to earn money, learn new skills and open the door to your future."

The Youth Corps will provide 12,500 summer jobs to unemployed 18-through 21-year-old Michigan residents, with jobs in all 83 counties. Established by the Michigan Legislature and Governor Blanchard in 1983, it is now entering its fourth consecutive summer, and will have provided 72,000 jobs when it ends this fall.

Applications are currently being accepted and work will begin as early as June 2.

Howe said there are approximately 350 MYC jobs in 12 northeastern Michigan counties including Alpena, Alpena, Arenac, Cheboygan, Crawford, Gladwin, Iosco, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Presque Isle and Roscommon counties.

"Young men and women in northeast Michigan should come into an MESC office or one of the many other locations where applications are available soon to apply for an MYC job," said Cal Howard, with the MESC office in Alpena, who coordinates the Youth Corps in four northeast Michigan counties.

Plans for the area include erosion control along the AuSable River, cleaning the Tawas River in Iosco County, highway roadside maintenance with the Department of Transportation throughout much of the region, and work at Mill Creek near Cheboygan.

Applications are available at all local MESC offices, many high schools, Soil Conservation District offices and county courthouses. For area youths apply at Crawford-Roscommon SCD, 409 Lake St., Roscommon.

Quilters Guild Holds Meeting

Members of the AuSable Quilters Guild met on May 14 at the charming AuSable River home of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Steffe. A feast of various foods was brought in by the members for a very special luncheon. Busy fingers worked at individual projects all day long.

The occasion also was to have been a baby shower for Barbara Domick, however, that very morning she and Larry took off for the hospital.

At the annual quilters meeting in June the shower will be celebrated by Barbara and her new baby son, Timothy Wayne.

Herbal Corner

Whenever I give a workshop in Design and Maintenance of an Herb Garden I always try to include the planting of an herb. Simple as it may sound I find it surprising how many people do not understand the philosophy of digging a $25 hole for a $5 dollar plant.

Do I have you mystified, darlin'? To explain: when you buy a plant — be it in a small four-cell pack or a large fruit tree — it always seems easy to just dig a hole the size of the pot and put in the plant. Dearheart, don't you know that a plant is a person? Whenever you move you move into something larger; so it is with a plant. The roots are wound around the pot for lack of room. In digging a hole larger than the pot you allow room for the roots to spread their feet.

Virgin soil is usually packed so when digging you loosen the soil. However, when you put the plant in the ground, pack the soil loosely around the roots, fill to the top then firmly push the soil down around the plant — not too hard, just enough to leave an impression. You do this because loose soil allows air and water to enter. But in a freshly planted material, combined with air and water, you have the environment for composting. Remember? Air, water, green material, all together will decompose at a high temperature. By firmly pressing the soil around the newly planted herb, air cannot get at the roots. Nature will loosen the soil as it sees fit.

So remember, darlin', your plant needs spreading room for its feet, firmed soil to nestle its toes in a permanent position, a little drink to help it settle, and a little pat on the head would not hurt.

Herbally yours,
E. Diana Cerelli, C.H.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover, Park Interpreter

Familiar flowers are once again appearing on the summer stage as if by call from the Director. The yellow Violets are in full bloom, and have been for some few days. The Star Flower came into bloom over the last weekend, and by the time this reaches you the False-Lily-of-the-Valley will be appearing. Early as it may be, the wild strawberries have been in bloom, as have the huckleberries. If we don't have a late frost, there may be some wild fruits to tease the taste buds a little later in the season. The Hawkweed stems are showing light colored buds which will soon burst open into the most vivid orange blossoms imaginable.

The little oak across the road from the office looks fuzzy now with new, but very small leaves. The leafing out of the oaks means the end of the available sunlight reaching the forest floor, and as I have mentioned before, this reduction of the sunlight limits the number and species of plants growing in such forested areas. The oak is fairly shade tolerant, so it can grow in the shade of its taller relatives thus perpetuating itself. This ability to grow in the shade leads to what is known as the Climax Forest, which in this area is an Oak or Beech-Maple Forest.

Campeau - McCauslin Speak Vows

Denise Suzanne Campeau and David Wayne McCauslin were united in marriage on Saturday, April 19th at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Grayling.

Reverend David Gemuend officiated during a double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campeau of Frederic and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCauslin of Cheboygan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza gown, highlighted by a lace covered bodice, a Queen Anne's neckline, with a full skirt accented down the back with layered ruffles. She wore a veil which formed a circlet of flowers at the crown and carried a bouquet of baby pink and white roses with white baby's breath.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a pale pink rose and white baby's breath boutonniere on his lapel.

The bride's sister, Rochelle Campeau, served as Maid of Honor. She wore a pink satin gown with lace trim and carried a white Spanish-style lace fan covered with baby pink orchids and white baby's breath.

The groom's brother, 3rd Class Petty Officer Scott McCauslin, who is stationed at San Diego, California, acted as best man. He wore his navy dress blue uniform.

Bridesmaids, also sisters of the bride, were Renee Campeau of Frederic and Cheryl Schmidt of Kalamazoo. They wore pale pink gowns of taffeta with lace overlays accented by pink ribbons and white hearts. They also carried fans covered with pale pink orchids and white baby's breath.

The groom was attended by his brother, 1st Class Petty Officer Robert C. McCauslin, who is stationed at Groton, Connecticut and his brother-in-law, Chief Petty Officer Mark G. Williams, who is stationed at Great Lakes, Illinois with the U.S. Navy. They also wore their dress blue uniforms.

The bride's niece, Sarah Schmidt, acted as flower girl. She wore a handmade gown of white eyelet accented by a pink satin sash and a circle of miniature pink roses with white baby's breath adorned her head. She carried a handmade basket of rose petals.

Serving as ringbearer was the groom's nephew, Aaron McCauslin. Aaron wore a white sailor suit and carried a white satin heart-shaped pillow edged with lace and accented by pearls and rings.

During the ceremony and mass, the bride and groom were presented with a special wedding candle by the Reverend David Gemuend.

The wedding processional and recessional were played by organist Nancy Hoffman of Grayling. The two songs, "Sunrise, Sunset" and "Just You and I" were sung by Roger DeKett of Saginaw. Roger is a friend of the groom and an accomplished singer who did his own accompaniment with a guitar.

Ushers who served during the ceremony were boyhood friends of the groom: Kenneth Bric of Traverse City and Chris Otto of Cheboygan, both wore black tuxedos.

The bride's father wore a Spencer tuxedo and her mother wore a floor length gown of mauve rose accented with beads and a matching jacket.

The groom's father also wore a Spencer tuxedo and his mother wore a floor length gown of lavender chiffon.

The bride's bouquet, flower arrangements, centerpiece, corsages and boutonnieres were handmade by Mary White, a good friend of the bride's family.

The wedding cake was hand decorated by the groom's sister, Maureen Thompson, of Grand Rapids. It was a four tier pedestal cake decorated with pastel flowers matching those used in the ceremony.

Following the three o'clock ceremony, the wedding party was greeted by their guests at the Grayling Eagles Lodge. Guests traveled from as far as California, Connecticut, and Illinois. Michigan guests came from Cheboygan, Detroit, Pontiac, Cassopolis, Traverse City, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Grayling.

After the reception, the newlyweds traveled to Chicago and Virginia Beach before returning to Grayling where they will make their home.

The McCauslin family also enjoyed a reunion of family and friends.

Skin Transplant Success

Skin transplants have survived for more than two years without anti-rejection drugs in a young burn patient treated at the University of California, Irvine.

The results are considered encouraging for severe burn victims, who must undergo extensive temporary transplant procedures while awaiting regrowth of their own skin for later grafting—procedures that can take years to complete.

Petrosky, a junior at Grayling High School, is one of 100 Michigan high school students selected on the basis of academic record, teacher recommendations, and high school and community involvement, to attend the program sponsored by the Alvin M. Bentley Foundation in Owosso.

The May 16-24 program takes participants through an examination of the political process through classroom instruction, simulations and guest lectures by current political figures.

This year's participants will hear talks on campus by gubernatorial hopefuls Richard Chrysler and William Lucas; U.S. Representative Howard Wolpe; Clark Durant III, who heads Jack Kemp's political action committee; Chief Circuit Judge James C. Students assume the roles of mayor, city manager, councilpersons, planning commission members and civic activists in a city of approximately 120,000.

Keeping Healthy

Household Bleach Plus Ammonia Toxic Combination

The combination of household bleach with ammonia, two relatively safe cleaning agents when used separately, can cause toxic pneumonitis — severe airways irritation and inflammation. According to Medical Times, two University of Missouri, Kansas City, School of Medicine doctors treated patients who had combined these household chemicals. The patients exposed to the combination of chemicals required hospitalization, needed antibiotics, and suffered from lasting lung function impairment (reduced vital capacity) and shortness of breath.

Chamber Chatter

By Terry Wright

Recently a misunderstanding has arisen concerning a television interview in which many viewers interpreted my words as an invitation to the Borden Chemical Co. to come to Grayling.

Not so-I was referring to a conversation with a Borden official who told me that if their proposed plant in Gaylord can not become a reality, they will consider other locations in northern Michigan, including Grayling.

It would be unwise of anyone here, myself most of all, to present a blanket invitation to any manufacturer of any kind before looking at all of the ramifications of their presence in our area.

My former comments in this column point out quite clearly our need for quality industries to relieve our high unemployment rate but also our responsibility to our state's most important interior water system. There can be no compromise of one for the other.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Tim Hart

Sales Representative
Ever wonder why baseball games consist of 9 innings instead of say, 8 or 10 or some other number? In the early days of baseball, teams played any number of innings. The winner of a game then was the first team to score 21 runs, regardless of how many innings were played. That rule wasn't changed until 1857 when it was decided to limit the game to a specific number of innings. Nine innings were picked to represent the 9 men on a team.

Here's an amazing pitching feat... It happened in a minor league game in 1952 when Ron Neccia of Bristol in the Appalachian League not only pitched a no-hitter, but struck out all 27 men! He got all three outs in every inning by strike out!

Here's an interesting question... In the entire history of baseball there have been 2 major league managers who had sons who also became big league managers... Can you name them? Connie Mack, who managed the A's for many years, had a son, Earle, who also managed the team for his father at various times... and George Sisler, who managed the St. Louis Browns in 1924-25-26, had a son, Dick, who managed Cincinnati in 1964-65.

I bet you didn't know... That the 1986 Grand Buick National is the fastest American production sports car in the quarter-mile. It has a high performance sequential flow turbo engine. Faster than the 86 vette.

Vikings Lose 5 - 3 in Rain

It rained on Grayling's district tournament hopes last Friday at Lincoln-Alcona as Grayling fell 5-3 in the pre-district game.

The Vikings were hoping to get by Lincoln-Alcona so they could host the district game on their home field this Friday.

Lincoln-Alcona scored four in the bottom of the first inning on three walks, an in-field single, and double.

Grayling had a good chance in their first inning but left the bases loaded.

The Vikings pushed across three in the top of the fifth when Scott Bly singled, David Somerville walked, David Myers walked, John Meagher walked, George Duncan walked, and Flaskie Robins walked.

Lincoln-Alcona used an in-field single and double to score one run in the bottom of the sixth.

Grayling was held to only two hits. Freshman GHS pitcher Chris Skidmore struck out 10 batters in six innings and held Lincoln-Alcona to four hits. Head baseball coach Fred Wolcott said only two of the hits off Skidmore were good ones. The entire game was played in the rain.

In a doubleheader last Tuesday against Petoskey, Grayling lost 15-2 and 9-3. Wolcott said Petoskey was easily the best team Grayling faced all season. Petoskey and Sault Ste. Marie face off in a doubleheader this week that will decide the conference championship.

Grayling finished the season with a doubleheader Tuesday, May 27, at home.

Junior Deputy Graduation

On May 20, 1986, all the fourth grade classes went to the gym for a Junior Deputy graduation. Deputy Don was supposed to be there but he couldn't make it. It was real neat. We got our picture in the paper. We all got real badges and then we said a special pledge. Mr. Larry Akers was in charge and Sheriff Hatfield was there. By Stacey Austin.

Over The Dam

"Well, that's water over the dam," we often say, dismissing any issue with an old adage and shift of mind.

But that doesn't always solve the issue. Water does not disappear. It DOES GO somewhere! It is neither destroyed nor vanished. It turns up elsewhere.

Problem issues are seldom solved by letting them go "over the dam." They have a tendency to turn up somewhere else, and often more severe than when first met.

I have a feeling that there are few REAL problems in life. What we call problems are only unmet opportunities begging for attention. But if left alone by "putting off facing them," or (what's worse) ignoring them, opportunities ultimately become problems.

Water does go "over the dam," but problems have a way of "damming up" inside of us, causing havoc with emotional health and wrecking meaningful relationships.

Look to God and your religious institutions for real solutions for your problems. Why not begin solving them this week?

Grayling Elementary School News

On May 15, 1986, Mrs. Bovee's class walked to the Crawford County building. First we went to the ambulance garage. Thane Doremire, the man that showed us around, let us look in back of the ambulances. We saw a lot of things. We went into the Marine garage. We saw a big boat and a trailer with scuba gear. We saw their snowmobiles. After that we went into the jail. We saw a computer and a tape recorder. Nest we saw a video camera that showed us the people in jail. After that we were able to go in the drunk tank and people could see us on TV. Then we looked at the trustee's room.

Afterwards we went to the courthouse. We saw Mr. Bovee's office. We toured the vault that held a lot of records such as births, deaths, and marriage licenses. Down the hall we looked in at a courtroom in session and at a courtroom that was empty. Mrs. Wieland took us to the law library and we talked. After that we went outside and ate our lunch.

Girl Scouts, Sponsorship, Why We Need Them?

The Promise and Law is what Girl Scouting is about. It was made possible by dedicated volunteers such as Juliette Low the Founder of Girl Scouts, parents, leaders, etc., dedicated girls and their troop sponsors.

Troop 2103 would like to thank our troop sponsor Mr. Floyd Hanger of Advanced Business Machines; your support financially and the dedication given this year. You have made it possible to be taped on the Deputy Don show in Traverse City, many crafts & supplies, roller skating, meeting Gaylord Troop 2145. Most of all dedication to the troop by attending our Investiture rededication ceremony Girl Scout banquet. (Support in the cake auction). The opportunity to say thanks by arranging yard clean up and the barbecue lunch provided that day. Thank you Mr. Hanger for showing our troop what membership and dedication in Girl Scouts is all about. May God Bless You and Your business.

We need sponsors, leaders, etc. and if you would like to volunteer your time, etc., or want information, call Sue Louchart 348-8117.

Troop 2103 will receive a little Mitten patch from the council for hard work this year and this article is one of the ten requirements for the patch.

Girl Scout Promise

On my honor, I will try:
To serve God and my country,
To help people at all times,
And to live by the Girl Scout Law.

The Law

I will do my best:
to be honest
to be fair to help where I am needed to be cheerful to be friendly and considerate to be a sister to every Girl Scout to respect authority to use resources wisely to protect and improve the world around me to show respect for myself and others through my words and actions.
